Dear Mr. Griffin,

I am sending this letter to thank you and your team for your reporting on the VA. Your reports are making a difference in the lives of millions of Americans who served in uniform and must rely on the VA for medical and other assistance resulting from conditions we incurred during our military service.

If not for you and CNN this long-standing abuse by some VA employees would continue to go unnoticed by the elected and appointed officials whose job is to look out for America's veterans.

And because certain elected people at the top of our government can still find plenty of time to golf, travel and attend parties, their attention to the problems we veterans are having with the VA would be even less than the little attention they give it today if not for you, your team and CNN.

Thank you, Mr. Griffin, for all the work that you and your CNN team are doing for us veterans. We have needed this help for a long time and only you and CNN are making it happen.

Signed,
